

RAY JOHNSON

- o Postman for John Eaton School and blocks in Cleveland Park
west of 34th Street, since 1970
- o 45 years old

Everybody on my route is like part of a family, believe it or not.
Everybody....I know their names.

The people here in Cleveland Park are beautiful....so nice. And that makes the day.

A lot of the older people have moved out or died, and a lot of younger families have moved in in their place. There's no basic change, other than nice people keep moving back in.

I've suffered a couple of dog bites. That was up on Cathedral Avenue. Other than that, no problems.

The day goes by fast.

I miss the sculpture on top of Eaton School. But I think everything has improved for the best in Cleveland Park. It's a beautiful area; it's a beautiful section of town.
